

Spencer J. Cox

Governor

Declaration

Whereas, surveying is a science and an art, used to establish land boundaries for ownership or government use;

Whereas, surveying has been essential to the development of the human environment since the beginning of recorded history and is required in the planning and execution of nearly every form of construction;

Whereas, it was through surveying that the boundaries and territories of the United States were determined, including the boundaries of and within the state of Utah;

Whereas, former notable surveyors include George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln, Meriwether Lewis, William Clark, Daniel Boone, and Henry David Thoreau, among many others;

Whereas, in order to accomplish their objective, surveyors use elements of engineering, physics, mathematics, law and history; and,

Whereas, we recognize the importance of surveyors to our state's continued growth and development, and express our appreciation for their efforts in engaging and mentoring the next generation of youth entering the fields of science, technology, engineering and math;

Now, therefore, I, Spencer J. Cox, governor of the great state of Utah, do hereby declare March 16-22, 2025, as

Surveyors Week in Utah

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Spencer J. Cox".

Spencer J. Cox

Governor